PHOENIX HOTEL,
(Corner of Main and Mulberry Streets.)
Lexington, Kentucky.

THE subscriber begs leave to inform his friends and the public generally, that he has leased this old and well known Hotel, in the city of Lexington, and that he has taken charge of the same.

The House has recently undergone a thorough renovation; the rooms are newly and neatly furnished; and still further improvements will be made to render it in all respects worthy of public patronage, and an agreeable home to those who may avail themselves of its privileges.

Intending to devote his own time and attention to the business, and to surround himself with competent assistants, together with faithful, polite and attentive servants, he gives the assurance to the public that no efforts on his part shall be wanting to make the old Phoenix in all respects worthy of its reputation in its palmiest days.

Professions, however, are too easily and too frequently made to be of much value unless accompanied by corresponding acts, and he, therefore, only asks that the public may test the sincerity of his pledges by giving him a call. They will allways find him ready to minister to their comforts in the best manner in his power.

LIFE PILLS AND PHENIX BITTERS

THESE MEDICINES have now been before the public for a period of thirty years, and during that time have maintained a high character in almost every part of the Globe, for their extraordinary and immediate power of restoring perfect health to persons suffering under nearly every kind of disease to which the human frame is liable.

The following are among the distressing varieties of human diseases in which the LIFE PILLS AND PHENIX BITTERS are well known to be infallible.

Dyspepsia, by thoroughly cleansing the first and second stomachs, and creating a flow of pure, healthy bile, instead of the stale and acrid kind. Flatulency, loss of appetite, Heart-Burn, Headache, Restlessness, Ill-Temper, Anxiety, Langor, and all other ailments, which are the general symptoms of Dyspepsia, will vanish, as a natural consequence of its cure.

Constipation, by cleansing the whole length of the intestines with a solvent process, and without violence; all violent purges leave the bowels costive, and do but little good.

Fever of all kinds, by restoring the blood to regular circulation, through the process of respiration in such cases, and the thorough solution of all intestinal obstruction in others.

The Life Medicines have been known to cure RHEUMATISM permanently in three weeks, and Gout in half that time, by removing local inflammation from the muscles and ligaments of the joints.

Dropsies of all kinds, by freeing and strengthening the kidneys and bladder; they operate most delightfully upon the most important organs, and hence have ever been found a certain remedy for the worst cases of Gravel.

Worms, by dislodging from the turnings of the bowels the slimy matter to which these creatures adhere.

Scorbutic Eruptions, and Bad Complexions, by their alterative effect upon the fluids that feed the skin, and the morbid state of which occasions all such eruptions, pimples, blotches, cloudiness, and all disagreeable complexion.

The use of these Pills for a very short time will effect an entire cure of SICK RHEUM, and a striking improvement in the clearness of the skin. Common Colds and Influenza will always be cured by one dose, or by two at the most.

Altogether, the original proprietor of these Medicines was cured of Piles, of 35 years standing, by the use of the Life Medicines alone.

FEVER AND AGUE.—For this scourge of the Western country, these medicines will be found a safe, speedy, and certain remedy. Other malarial diseases, the system subject to a return of the disease; a cure by these Medicines is permanent—try them, be satisfied, and be cured.

Bilious Fevers and Liver Complaints.—General Debility, Loss of Appetite, and Diseases of Females.—The Medicines have been used with the most beneficial results in cases of this description.—King's Evil, and Scrofula, in its worst forms yields to the mild yet powerful action of these Medicines. Night Sweats, Nervous Debility, Nervous Complaints of all kinds, Palpitation of the Heart, Painters' Colic, are speedily cured.

Mercantile Diseases.—Persons whose constitutions have become impaired by the injudicious use of mercury, will find these Medicines a perfect cure, as they never fail to eradicate from the system all the effects of Mercury, infinitely sooner than the most powerful preparations of Sarsaparilla.

TUESDAY.....FEBRUARY 24, 1863.

Union Convention!

At a meeting of the Union members of the Legislature, in the House of Representatives, on Monday evening, Feb. 16th, 1863, on motion, Hon. Joseph R. Underwood, was called to the Chair, and John B. Bruner, appointed Secretary.

After a free and full consultation it is recommended to the Union Democracy of Kentucky that they assemble in convention, through their delegates, in the city of Louisville, on the 15th day of March next, and nominate suitable persons as candidates to fill the various State offices, to be chosen at the next August election. It is further recommended that the people meet, at some convenient time and place, in their respective counties, and appoint delegates to represent them in the convention.

J. R. UNDERWOOD, Chairman.
JOHN B. BRUNER, Secretary.

The Suppression of the Rebel Convention.

The suppression, by Col. Gilbert, commanding the United States forces at this point, of the rebel Convention which met here on the 18th inst., is being made the subject of much discussion through some of the public prints. The secessionists unanimously condemn his course. And upon entirely different grounds than those assigned by secessionists, his course is censured by some of the Union party.

For our own part, we think that, under all the circumstances of the case, Colonel Gilbert did exactly right. We rejoice that he had the courage and the nerve to suppress the band of traitors who proposed to lay, in this city, the basis of an organization whose ultimate purpose was to drag Kentucky out of the Union. And we rejoice that Colonel G's conduct was characterized by that prudence and discretion which the occasion demanded. He deserves, in our judgment, the thanks of every loyal citizen of Kentucky. And we feel an abiding conviction that an immense majority of the people of Kentucky cordially approve what he did, if not what he said.

We say "Amen" to what Col. Gilbert did, because we know, as every one else does, that in the breast of perhaps no single member of the Convention was there a single emotion of loyalty. No one of them have any sympathy with the Government of the United States in the tremendous struggle which it is now having with the Southern rebellion. All of their sympathies are with the rebels, and they rejoice in their hearts at every success of the Confederates. If they had the power they would starve our gallant army into a surrender of all for which we are now fighting. They would recognize the independence of the Confederate States, would revolutionize Kentucky, and then drench her fair fields in blood, in order to attach her to the fortunes of Jeff Davis. It was a disunion organization begotten and conceived by original secession sympathizers, and neither it nor any of its members deserved the slightest consideration from the United States authorities.

But some one may say that they were assembling peacefully, and should not have been interfered with. Peaceably indeed! They assembled in the same peaceable manner in which Southern Senators met in caucus at the outset of this rebellion, and schemed and plotted against the country. Had some Col. Gilbert suppressed them, it would have been well for the whole country.

And now some Kentuckians propose that the like peaceable (?) assemblies be permitted in this State. For our part we are prepared to say that the United States authorities should never permit any Kentucky traitors to organize upon Kentucky soil, with a view to drag Kentucky out of the Union. Crush out all such concerns at the outset, and teach those traitors that they are not half so respectable as those of their brethren who have had the courage to go to the battle field and fight for their treason.

Again, it is gravely urged that the military cannot be permitted, under any circumstances, to judge of the character of any public assemblage, and, upon its own motion, stop its proceedings. Who, let us ask, has any exclusive right to judge of such questions in the midst of a great civil commotion? The Government of the United States has the same right of self-preservation that an individual has. It need not wait until the fatal blow is given. It may anticipate a blow which is certain to be aimed at its very existence. If it starts out with a loaded gun to hunt up B, with a view to take his life, the latter may anticipate the former, and take his life in advance—thus saving his own. So our Government can anticipate armed treason, by crushing out those incipient steps which will inevitably lead to such treason. The authorities may sometimes err in this, and may abuse the powers they have. Such abuses are incident to all mere human institutions. We cannot expect perfection in any earthly organizations. We must look for error and imperfections all along the pathway of life. But all this does not prove the non-existence of the power which we have claimed for the Government any more than the pillaging and plundering of an undisciplined soldiery proves the illegality of their enlistment, or the illegality of the great objects for which they are called to the field.

It would be a strange state of affairs, indeed, if the military authorities, could not suppress, in its incipency, an organization whose purposes were to throw all the obstacles possible in the way of the successful prosecution of the war, starve our gallant soldiers, demoralize our army, and drag Kentucky out of the Union. The philosophy of the Kentucky rebels is that they must not be interfered with until all things are in readiness for them to strangle the Union sentiment of the State just as their Southern confederates strangled it in Tennessee. Away with such dreaming. In such times as those upon which we have fallen, let no compromise be made with, or countenance be given to, rebels or rebel sympathizers. Watch them as you would the serpent who is coiling his rattles to strike you. Trust him not in any matters affecting the public welfare. And if they are not willing to submit to the often expressed will of the people of Kentucky, our opinion is that they should be made to do so. Whenever and wherever in Kentucky they attempt to organize with the purpose, secret or avowed, present or ultimate, to array this State against the Federal Government and for the rebellion, let them be promptly suppressed. If no other alternative is presented, let some Col. Gilbert rise up in every county in the State, and do the thing decently and in order.

These are the views of the original founder of the Commonwealth paper. Some of his partners probably do not concur with him in every aspect in which these questions have been presented. But they all agree in crushing out the rebellion by the whole power of the country.

When the Senate voted upon the resolution of the House returning thanks to our Kentucky volunteers, Messrs Grover, Irwin, Southern Rights, voted for the resolution the other Southern Rights gentlemen in the Senate, who were present just before the vote was taken, turned up missing.

MORNINGSTAR'S CAMPBELL MINSTRELS.—By an advertisement in another part of this paper it will be seen that this company will give another concert this evening at Metropolitan Hall. It is unnecessary for us to say a single word in their commendation. Very many of our citizens will bear testimony to their excellence from visits to their concerts last week. The writer of this notice has visited their concerts, in Louisville and elsewhere, about thirty times, and has never failed being highly entertained. We consider it one of the very best companies of the kind in the United States, and we have visited very many of them. The truth is that Mr. Morningstar has some of the most inimitable delineators of negro character we have ever witnessed in any company.

Approved, February 12, 1863.

The following are the preamble and resolutions offered on the 6th of February, by Mr. J. W. Anderson, viz:

Whereas, the Federal Government of the United States being engaged in a terrible war for the suppression of a causeless and wicked rebellion, which aims to sunder the Union and destroy the Government, Kentucky being an integral portion of the Government, a loyal State thereof, and having long since pledged her faith to the Government to aid in the suppression of the rebellion, and the restoration of the Government, with the rights of all the States; that notwithstanding she holds opinions adverse to the policy and constitutional power of some of the war measures of the Chief Executive of the Nation, still, unwavering in her devotion and attachment to the Government, and her illustrious ancestors and revolutionary sires, she again reiterates her pledges of fidelity to the great common cause, and with all her energies, with all her power, and with all her means, will advance steadily forward in the prosecution of the war, to the crushing of the rebellion and the restoration of the Union and the Constitution—therefore,

Resolved by the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Kentucky,
1. That the General Assembly declares, as the State of Kentucky hath ever been, and is, loyal to the Government of the United States of America, and is determined to maintain that loyalty against both domestic and foreign foes.

2. That the General Assembly recognizes a manifest difference between any administration of the Government and the Government itself—the one is transitory, limited in duration only to that period of time for which the officers elected by the people are charged with the conduct of the same—the other is permanent, intended by its founders to endure forever.

3. That the General Assembly now, in the exercise of its right to differ in opinion with the National Executive, enters its solemn protest against the Proclamation of the President of the United States, dated 1st of January, 1863, by which he assumes to emancipate all slaves within certain States, holding the same to be unwarranted, unconstitutional and void.

4. That the General Assembly further declares that the power which has recently been assumed by the President of the United States, whereby, under the guise of military necessity, he has proclaimed and extended martial law over States where war did not exist, is unwarranted by the Constitution, and its tendency is to subordinate civil to military authority, and to subvert the Constitution and free Government.

5. That the General Assembly declines to accept the President's proposition for emancipation, as contained in his Proclamation of the 10th May, 1862.

6. That the General Assembly deems it proper further to declare, that it, together with all the loyal people of the State, would hail with pleasure and delight any manifestation of a desire on the part of the seceded States to return to their allegiance to the Government of the Union, and would, in such event, cordially and earnestly co-operate with them in the restoration of peace, and the procurement of such guarantees as would give security to all their interests and rights.

7. That Kentucky will adhere to the Constitution and the Union, as the best, it may be the last, hope of the freedmen and for all other rights which may have been committed, or evils which may exist, will seek redress under the Constitution and within the Union, by the peaceful, but powerful and irrevocable, agencies of the suffrages of a free people.

8. That the General Assembly hails with pleasure the recent manifestation of common-sense sentiment among the people of the non-slaveholding States, in regard to the same as the earnest of a good purpose on their part to co-operate with all other loyal citizens—give security to the rights of every section, and maintain the Union and Constitution as they were ordained by the founders of the Republic.

CASEALTY AT PADUCAH.—Mr. John M. Clark, the proprietor of the St. Francis Hotel, was stabbed and mortally wounded by a cook in his employ in that city on Thursday, the 19th ult. The deceased leaves a large and interesting family. The homicide has been arrested, and is awaiting examination.

We are authorized to announce W. T. SAMUELS, Esq., present clerk of House of Representatives, as a candidate for Auditor of Public Accounts subject to the action of the Convention to be held in the city of Louisville, on the 18th of March next.

We are authorized to announce Dr. J. RUSSELL HAWKINS as a candidate for the office of Register of the Land Office, at the ensuing August election, subject, however, to a decision of the Union Convention to be held in the city of Louisville, on the 18th of March next. THE GREAT FIRE AT TROY, N. Y.

The Phoenix of Hartford.

PHOENIX INSURANCE COMPANY,
Hartford, Conn., May 12, 1862.

"A big fire at Troy—we are informed how much we don't know. May be $20,000; but whatever it is, it will be paid as fast as it is lost, and no more. Secretary Kellogg went up there this morning. Mr. Wallace (Adjuster) will meet him there to-morrow. They will make short work of it. The fire swept off about fifty acres of buildings—a real calamity to Troy, but one which our company could have prevented. It is the first emergency we ever had, and such an one as gives more character to a Company than a hundred $5,000 fires."

HARTFORD, May 13, 1862.

"Our losses may reach $15,000, or $20,000, but whatever they are, they will all be paid before Saturday night if they can be adjusted. It is such a fire that try the backbone of a Company, and if they can stand up under the heavy load, it will give them great credit."
